ABOUT ABTALQUEST

Building a healthier digital childhood.

AbtalQuest transforms screen time into a catalyst for meaningful action, helping children become the heroes of their own journeys.

WHY WE EXIST

Children deserve digital experiences that believe in what they can become.

AbtalQuest is a behavioral development system that combines immersive digital adventures, real-life missions and practical parent guidance. Children make choices, act beyond the screen and build skills through experience, while parents gain useful insight to support their growth and strengthen connection.

OUR MISSION

Help every child build a healthier relationship with technology while developing the character, confidence and essential life skills needed to thrive in an increasingly digital world.

OUR VISION

To become the world's leading behavioral development system, inspiring millions of children to grow through action, curiosity, meaningful real-world experiences and stronger parent-child relationships.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

The values behind every quest.

Respect & Transparency

We respect children and families, communicate clearly and design with their dignity in mind.

Integrity & Accountability

We take responsibility for what we build, the choices we make and the trust families place in us.

Humility

We listen, learn and improve with families and experts rather than pretending to have every answer.

Consistency

Meaningful development comes through steady action, thoughtful practice and dependable support.

Excellence & Innovation

We pursue exceptional quality and imaginative solutions that serve children's real needs.

TEAM & PARTNERS

Built by people who care about childhood.

Founder stories, team profiles and confirmed partners will appear here when approved. We do not publish invented names, credentials or affiliations.

COMMON QUESTIONS

A clear view for families.

What is AbtalQuest?

AbtalQuest is a child-centered digital experience that turns screen time into stories, quests and real-world missions designed to encourage action and growth.

What age is it designed for?

The current experience is being designed for children ages 7–10. Age ranges may evolve as the product is tested with families.

Is it a game or an educational app?

It uses the joy of games and stories, but it is designed as a broader developmental journey—not a school replacement or a traditional game.

How are parents involved?

guidance they can apply at home—helping them strengthen their relationship with their child and nurture confidence, autonomy, resilience and emotional skills.

How does it encourage real-world activity?

Digital quests lead to simple missions children can try at home and in daily life, connecting discovery on screen with action beyond it.

How does AbtalQuest approach privacy?

Child safety and privacy are core design priorities. Full policies and product details will be published before public release.

Which devices will it support?

Final device availability and store links will be announced before launch.
